

Burn Awareness Week Coincides with Fire Prevention Week!

(Penticton, BC – October 1, 2018) – The Penticton Fire Department, Fire Prevention Division, is happy to announce Burn Awareness Week will now coincide with Fire Prevention Week – October 7-13.

Prevention education is the key to eliminating highly preventable fire, burn and trauma injuries. With both campaigns taking place in the same week, the message for prevention will be stronger than ever.

“Most burns are preventable, particularly for children”, says Firefighter Mike Sutherland, Penticton Fire Department, and local Burn Fund Representative. “By keeping hot liquids like coffee and tea out of a child’s reach or testing young children’s bath water before use, the potential to cause common childhood burns is lessened.”

Each year an estimated 9,000 children in Canada visit hospital emergency rooms for burns and close to 1,000 are hospitalized as a result of these burns. Approximately 120 children will die from their injuries each year.

Burn Awareness Week tips:

- Matches and lighters are tools for grownups, and not toys to be played with. Reinforce the concept that like power tools or a knife, the match is a tool with specific uses, such as lighting a stove or a candle, or for starting campfires.
- Discuss the dangers around the stove. Instruct children to stay away from adults who are busy preparing food, carrying pots or using utensils. Adults should always turn pot handles inward (pointing toward the middle of the stove) when cooking.
- Cooling the burned area will lessen the severity of the injury if the procedure is performed immediately following the burn incident.
